

Special Olympics Advancement Cycle

The Special Olympics year runs from September to June.

The advancement cycle above illustrates how athletes progress from area events to regional events, to Ireland Games and ultimately World Summer Games over a 4 year period.

In addition to ongoing development work across the programme, non-advancement events will take place for all sports between Year 3 and 4 of this cycle.